

I strongly oppose any change to current rules that would lower the decency standards for any of the frequency spectrum that would allow the use of expletives or the broadcast of nudity. This opposition applies to, but is not limited to, all frequency bands allocated to amateur radio operators.

Many current TV and radio broadcasts are inappropriate for children and adolescents and any relaxing of current standards would work to the extreme prejudice of children and their parents. Also, allowing the use of expletives and/or broadcasting nudity on the amateur radio bands would prevent many parents from allowing their children engage in the amateur radio hobby.
